Official Contest Rules (the fine print):

As per the movie, no purchase necessary, enter as often as you like. No actual donation to our 1985 time capsule is necessary for entry into the contest, however, it would make me really happy if you did, and as a bonus, you get a coupon for $10 off a 1TB or $25 off a 2TB good through August 7th . This contest is mostly just for fun. But we will have some fun prizes. There may be more than one winner, and we reserve the right to select a winning entry by any means. This may mean doing a traditional drawing from all entries, or it could be based on the most interesting story of a donated item. We may also consider awarding prizes based on participation in the mutant hamster races, madame curie look-alike contest, creation of a large spinning mirror, most creative use of popcorn, using your brother as a size comparison and knitting a sweater for an iCafe staff member, bringing in a bowl of jello, performing a chacha while eating yogurt, best diversion created in an attempt to avoid responsibility, having your hair done at the Wanda Trussler School of Beauty, or the synthesis of excited bromide in an argon matrix.

Top prize will go to anyone who can demonstrate actual creation of a 5 Megawatt laser by vaporizing the following target: 47°N 38' 22.6392" 122°W 7' 42.0888" (iCafe and MacXprts-Kansas intend this solely as a joke and do not actually endorse the creation of a laser that can vaporize a target from space)
